About

La Vida Samui, a boutique resort is located on Chaweng Beach, one of the most beautiful beaches on Samui island (Koh Samui).

The site is spectacularly located on a white sand beach having astonishing view over the bay, and, being in a beach garden with lots of tropical trees and flowers.

La Vida means “life”

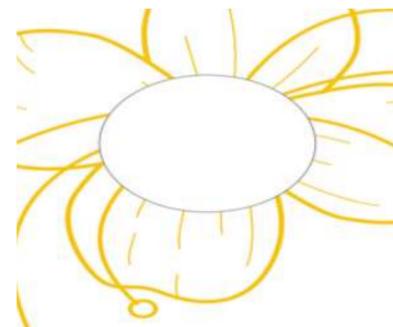

The life that sustains this island results in the architectural design and interior decorations where ones can enjoy living in a tropical and unspoiled surrounding.

Attraction Point in Samui

Koh Samui is one of the world's most charming tropical island destinations and still retains much of its village-like ways of life.

“Koh” means island in Thai. Koh Samui or Samui island is located in the province of Surat Thani, Southern part of Thailand. It is Thailand's third largest island, in the Gulf of Thailand, is accessible by plane via airports in major Asian cities.

Samui destination covers the Ang Thong National Marine Park and other surrounding islands including Koh Phangan, Koh Tao and Koh Nang Yuan. There are only two seasons in Samui, warm and rainy season with tropical rainfalls.
